The Goal

Our goal at OpenAirShips.com is to provide extremely low-cost housing and transportation for every individual and family.

This will have a profound and positive impact on our lives and health by drastically lowering prices for all goods, services, and real estate globally.

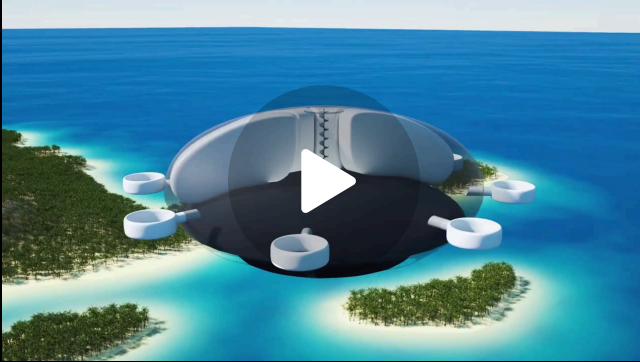

The Plan

Our plan is to develop small, modular, open source, 3d printable autonomous AirShips and then scale up using off-the-shelf components.

The long term goal is to provide nearly free travel, housing, electricity, internet, freedom, and clean water to every human being.

OpenAirShips.com is a decentralized autonomous organization aiming to bootstrap the design of AirShip housing and transportation for families, individuals, and uncensorable networks.

Get Involved

Our designs are a collaborative Community-Driven effort. Freedom of information and actual physical freedom are our core values.

There is something YOU can do to improve our world. We have many tasks and roles that don't require special engineering or coding skills.

GET INVOLVED

OpenAirShips.com utilizes a host of prior innovation and technology.
